

St. Joe to graduate 66th class on June 4

St. Joseph's college will conduct its 66th annual June commencement at 2 p.m., Sunday, June 4 in Alumni fieldhouse. Baccalaureate mass in the college chapel at 10:30 a.m. will open the day's activities.

Approximately 150 seniors, the largest class in the history of the college, will receive A.B. and B.S. degrees at the commencement. Also, the honorary Doctor of Laws degree (LL.D.) will be conferred upon Mr. Arthur L. Hellyer, a member of the college Board of Lay Trustees.

Thomas J. Schoenbaum, a philosophy major from River Forest, Ill., will deliver the valedictory address, and the Most Rev. Charles G. Maloney, Auxiliary Bishop of Louisville, will give the commencement address.

The Very Rev. John E. Byrne, Provincial, and president of the Board of Control of the college, will celebrate the Baccalaureate mass and preside at the commencement.

The day's program will begin with an academic procession from the Administration building to the chapel at 10:15 a.m., followed by the Baccalaureate at 10:30. After mass, dinner will be served in the cafeteria from 11:30-12:30.

At 1:45 p.m. the academic procession will march from Raleigh hall to the fieldhouse for commencement. The introduction will be made by Rev. Raphael Gross, president of the college. Mr. Hellyer and the degree candidates will be presented by Rev. Edward Maziarz, academic dean of the college. Senior honors and awards will also be announced at this time, and the valedictory and commencement addresses given.

After the commencement exercises, there will be a reception for graduates, their parents and guests, and the faculty in the Rec hall.

Mr. Hellyer, who will receive the honorary Doctor of Laws degree, has been active in Chicago-area real estate dealings, and civic and political affairs for many years. He has been a member of the Board of Lay Trustees since 1950.

Thomas Schoenbaum, the valedictorian of the class of 1961, has maintained the highest scholastic average in his class. In addition, he has been a standout on the track team and has been active in other campus activities.

Bishop Maloney, who will deliver the commencement address, is a 1932 graduate of St. Joseph's. He has held several important positions in the Archdiocese of Louisville since going there after World War II. He is also the Titular Bishop of Capsa.

Following is a list of the candidates for graduation on June 4: Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa, Arthur L. Hellyer.

'Phase' for 1961: out in September

Phase, the college yearbook, should be available to the students upon their return in September, Mr. James O'Brien, Phase moderator, announced this week.

The 1961 Phase will be a 9 by 12 inch book, the standard collegiate yearbook size. The book is nearly completed now, and should be completed soon, Mr. O'Brien said.

Dick Vogt is the editor of the 1961 Phase. He and his staff have been working on the book all year, and hope to turn out a fine quality yearbook. Mr. O'Brien feels that the larger size and the photography work of Root studios will make the 1961 Phase the finest yearbook in St. Joe history.

Those students other than graduates not returning to St. Joe, and desiring copies of Phase must send their addresses to the Phase office by Sept. 1.

Prof. Attends Hartke council

Dr. Robert J. Kreyche, chairman of the philosophy department of St. Joseph's college, attended the first meeting of Senator Vance Hartke's Indiana Academic Advisory Council held in Indianapolis Saturday, May 20.

The council has been organized by Senator Hartke, Indiana Democrat, to serve as a consultant group on legislative matters. Nearly 40 professors representing 20 Indiana colleges and universities are active in the council.

Gallagher wins Rapp speech contest award

Harold J. Gallagher, a sophomore, won the second semi-annual Fr. Rapp speech contest held Monday, May 22 in the auditorium. He spoke on "The Price of

'Stuff' named as 'first class'

Stuff has been awarded a first class honor rating for the issues of the first semester of 1960-61 by the Associated Collegiate Press' national newspaper critical service.

The first class honor rating is the second highest given by the Associated Collegiate Press (ACP). It is given to newspapers attaining excellent achievement in carrying out the functions of the college newspaper.

The rating carries with it a certificate approved by Mr. Fred L. Kildow, director of ACP, and a newspaper guidebook containing the analysis upon which the award was based.

Stuff was judged to be especially outstanding in the areas of copyreading, editorials, intramural coverage, layout, headlines, and typography and printing.

The highest rating given by ACP is "All American." Distinctly superior achievement is required to earn this rating. Only three of 41 papers in Stuff's class earned the "All American" rating.

Freedom," a short dissertation showing the futility of complete disarmament and the need for perpetual vigilance.

Second place went to sophomore Joseph Teaff for his talk on "Goldwater and Conservation." Mrs. Ada Lorean Roberts won third place by speaking on "Education and You."

Other speakers were Paul Andorfer, Jerry Meserve, and Leonard Bara. The speakers represented this semester's speech 15 sections.

The speech contest was begun last semester to give recognition to outstanding speech students. The contest is named for Fr. Ildefonso Rapp, professor emeritus of the speech department and former director of the Columbian Players.

Fr. Rapp was present for the contest, and spoke briefly on the qualities of a good speaker. He also recited "Ruby" to demonstrate his ideas.

The speeches were judged by Dr. Kreyche and Mr. Shemky. Decisions on the seven-minute speeches were based on appropriateness, organization and development of the talks, and upon bodily action.

The winners will receive trophies, and Gallagher's name will be engraved on a plaque in the auditorium lobby. Charles Schutrow was the winner of last semester's contest.

Year of change has started St. Joe on road to fulfillment

This year, 1960-61, has been a year of change for St. Joseph's college. Many first steps have been taken, many precedents have been set, many discoveries and changes have been made. As the year of change draws to a close, let us envision what lies on the horizon for the college.

The stage is set for future greatness for St. Joseph's. Several of this year's occurrences have pointed up the fact that we are ready to emerge into the sunlight of fulfillment as a vital, functioning organism, a unified college community.

This was the year when students decided to do something to aid their faltering fellow students by tutoring. The battle over control of the tutoring system produced a great clarification of who runs what on this campus.

This was the year when we determined to reward freshman scholars, and brought a new honor society, Phi Eta Sigma, to campus. At the same time we found more clubs on campus than ever before, and participated in more of the superior activities which they arranged for us. Thus we stimulated both academic and social growth.

This was the year when our dean blasted us for being apathetic—and already we have responded. Drove us turned out to run for office. Apathy and remedies for it became a major topic of conversation. A new group has been organized to aid in counselling next year's freshmen, so that they may know and profit by our mistakes, and be given an early insight into the true function of the college and their function in it.

This was the year when STUFF broke tradition and supported a candidate for student office. And though another man was sent to office, STUFF served to further awaken student opinion, and served notice that it is a field where the opinion battles of the campus may be waged to the fullest.

This was the year when the captain of the football team was elected president of the Student Council because we felt he would be an energetic leader. And though he must yet face his greatest administrative challenge—football vs. Council—his procurement of extended light privileges and his new prefect picking system have served notice that he is equal to the challenge.

The result of all these occurrences has been a definite strengthening of the unifying bonds of the college. To be sure, we are here individually to learn, but in addition we have a unique responsibility to our unique society. Living in a community as we do, we must all possess a basic loyalty to all the segments which make up the community; we must strive for the betterment of the community and its common objective—perfection.

This loyalty, call it school spirit, student interest, or whatever you will, is the factor which produces greatness in a college, and this is the spirit which has undergone the change—for the better—this year of 1960-61.

But we must not sit back and expect the spirit we have generated to reproduce itself. To remain vital a body must be constantly restimulated. This is the situation we have here now; we have at St. Joseph's the potential, the framework of greatness. But only our continued initiative can fill in the framework.

Things I would like to see:

Ed Vanderplow actually balancing the budget now that he is treasurer of the Law club.

Decent Friday meals.

More women emancipators, a la Miss Mathews.

John Domke as prefect of Scharf House. Somebody actually smoking at one of the S.A.M. "socials."

Denny Mudd continuing next year the fine work he has already accomplished.

Charley Schuttrow and Dan Jones on a double-date.

Jack Carlin in a swimming suit.

A Stuff Pin-up (female) of the Month—to be picked by experienced Mickey Clark.

Howie Ruppel and Ted "Navy" Sabados solving their sociological differences.

The track finished in time for the 1964 Olympics.

John Barton Griffin and Dave Hoover finding a solution to their journalistic squabbles.

Things I couldn't believe:

Marty Waters actually giving credit to the Student Council.

Seeing Fr. Schaefer and Jim Madden both smile in the same day.

As another school year draws to a close, we can see the conclusion of another chapter in our lives. Just one more obstacle—one more conflict—the final examinations, and then we are free, free to enjoy our summer break, to forget thinking about books, classes, St. Joe, or any of that "rot." After the examinations, this school year will "just be history."

And yet, what does this all mean? Where are we going? Have we really learned anything this last semester, have we learned anything in previous semesters, will we ever learn anything? Or is it just a matter of getting along, not worrying about anything, just getting along on what we can, at the minimum we can, just to get along.

How often, while walking the same path between class and hall, do we ever think of what it all means? Our parents, the money, the time, the effort, and even our Susies and Marys (no matter how long we've been going out with them): they are all a part of the picture, the picture we are trying to build. But what kind of picture are we trying to build? Have we ever sat down and seriously thought about it? If not, its time.

Surely life must come to mean more than the balance in a savings account. There must be other ways of measuring it, evaluating it, and in so doing, attempting to determine our place, determine what we are building.

Maybe it's not important that we totally succeed in building our picture, as long as we try—struggle—to construct something worthwhile. Even reaching our omega successfully is not as important as that human struggle, in which we as individual men partake in the hope of some worthwhile achievement.

But now we are back to determine what is "worthwhile." To each person this word means something different, and each of us must try to find that meaning for ourselves. But the point is to find the meaning, or try to, and then to try, at least, to build our picture. What is it to write a chapter, or a book for that matter, if there is no theme?

More than 9 times as much as you gave to fight cancer.

Shocking? Yes. And here's another shocking fact: in 1961 cancer will strike in approximately two out of three American homes.

Chew all the gum you like. For every penny you spend for chewing gum, give a penny to the American Cancer Society.

In that way, you will be giving $300,000,000 to fight cancer this year. More than nine times as much as last year!

Fight cancer with a checkup—and a check to the American Cancer Society.

Freshman suggests methods to improve Student Council

Dear editor,

Here are a few ideas which I have gained from one year at St. Joe, and which I feel would improve the college.

Because comps, prom, graduation, job applications, etc. all make the final semester far too busy for senior officers to devote their full interest and time to their positions on the Student Council, I think the elections should be held in December and the term of office should run from Feb. 1. to Feb. 1. This would also encourage long run planning for fall and spring events.

With the increasing student body, prospects of a new student union building, etc., the social program will surely continue to be an expanding item. I believe that a full-time social chairman should be appointed. He could do much to coordinate and expand a good social program.

Amid the current comments about intellectual and cultural campus apathy, we might ask: what has happened to the concert series? Why is a student body of this size unable to produce one or two dramatic productions each semester as well as an annual musical comedy? Are not round tables, debates, and discussion hours all possible? All of these are of campus-wide interest in many schools and could be actively encouraged by a full-time Student Council official.

A source of criticism in past years has been the procedure, or lack of it, concerning the expenditure of council, or indeed, student funds. I suggest a provision in the Student Council constitution making it necessary that all expenditures in excess of, say, $50 or $100 be approved by a majority vote of the Council.

This would obviate the situation whereby the council might debate at some length about a small item, and not be consulted about a really large expenditure.

In general, it seems to me that any provision to the council constitution which might tend to make the Student Council less a closed, exclusive group, and rather one which retains more frequent and more normal contacts and interests with the student body, including the underclassmen, would be a worthy consideration. For I am sure that you will agree that a Student Council, during both semesters of its life, should be concerned not merely with "curing crises," but with active, positive leadership.

Pumas dump Franklin, Ball St.; finish 10-6

Varsity views

By BOB ROSPENDA

Another year is gone, and the only thing left of the year's sports activities is a jumble of statistics and season records kept in a neat pile for future reference. This is the obvious time to look at the year in perspective.

The football season saw the Puma musclemen involved in a frustrating hot and cold type of play. The squad showed their potential in the wins over Butler and Evansville, the top two teams in the ICC. With any degree of consistency, the Pumas could have gone all the way.

The basketball season came and went with the "we'll never stop running" Pumas on the skids most of the season. The loss of the scoring punch that had been there the previous two seasons, coupled with the failure of the fast break, proved the downfall of the Big Red.

The baseball team ended a fair season this past Saturday with two impressive wins over Ball State, who had come to Pumaville in sole possession of first place in the ICC. Several factors, including the slugging of Al Whitlow, and the excellent pitching of the sophomores, contributed to the winning season.

On the whole, the year must be classified as mediocre. What about next year? Let's take a closer look.

How well the football Pumas will do in the fall will depend on next year's sophomores. Considering that the bulk of the first string linemen from this past year will not be back, how well the sophomores produce will determine how far the Pumas will be able to go. The backfield will be strong with the return of Mirocha and Houlihan, and with co-captain Beam at quarterback.

If coach Ed Dwyer, in his first year as head-coach, is able to mold the sophomores and returning lettermen into a balanced squad, the Pumas could be very tough, since there's no doubt that Dwyer can instill the spirit into his men.

For next year's basketball team, there's nowhere to go but up. They will improve, but it's doubtful that this improvement will be radical. Jerry Patchman, who improved so much last year, figures to be the Pumas' main offensive threat this coming year. Patchman and Voellinger will supply the rebounding, with J. C. Crowley doing the playmaking. If new head coach Jim Holstein can get the offense rolling, the Pumas may surprise someone.

The baseball picture for next year looks bright. The bat of Al Whitlow will be missed, but there will be enough returning personnel to offset this. The sophomore pitching came through this year as hoped. It figures to be as good, if not better, next year. With this balance, the Pumas have an excellent chance of finishing in the top three in the ICC next year.

St. Joe will not, of course win the ICC's All-Sports trophy, but there does figure to be general improvement in all of the sports here at St. Joe next year.

1961 track team set six new school records, won one meet

St. Joe has sponsored a track team 14 times since 1938. The present squad is the second one since 1955. The team won only one meet this year, but the season was the best in years as far as good times and records go.

The team set six new school records during the year, shattering the 440 yd. dash, two mile run, high hurdles, mile relay, javelin and total points records.

The following list of records is as complete as possible, but there is a possibility of error, and any corrections will be appreciated.

Intramural Scoreboard

By BILL FORTIN

The Bennett Seymour Nebbishes retained their title in the 12-inch softball league last Thursday by whipping the Bennett Irving Nebbishes by the score of 16-2 in the championship game. The Seymours' star pitcher, Al Croci, had to leave the game in the first inning when he was injured. Bill Kirwen came in and went the rest of the distance for the victors. The captain of the Seymour Nebbishes is John Lyons.

The 16-inch two-league championship was to be decided this past Tuesday in a game between the upperclass champs, the Bennett Horsemen, and the winner of the game between the Drexel Farmers and Gaspar Penthouse of the freshman league which was scheduled for Monday.

Monday's contest was to be the playoff game for the freshman league title between these latter two teams who both concluded their regular season with records of 9 and 1. The Farmers defeated the Penthouse 11-4 on the first day of the season, but have since been beaten themselves by the Drexel Gang Bangers 10-7 while Gaspar has won nine straight.

The Horsemen rounded out their undefeated regular season last Thursday as Ed Veome pitched them to a 26-4 victory over the Scharf Eparks while their big bats poured in enough runs to end the game in three innings.

The powerful Scharf House Gang was taken out of the picture two days earlier when the Gallagher War Lords handed them a 12-11 loss.

Going into Tuesday's championship game the senior Horsemen were high favorites to win over the freshman champs. Vito Mitalo is the captain of the Horsemen, and the captains of the Farmers and the Penthouse are Joe Gugliotta and Chuck Bowling respectively.

The occurrence of a freshman, Jim Dixon, winning the table tennis championship has aroused some speculation about the possibility of one player hanging onto the ping pong title for four consecutive years, something that has never been done here.

Dixon was at his best when he beat Kirwen in the final series on May 10, but Dixon at his worst could almost turn the trick. If Dixon should come through, Brother Gerard would undoubtedly invite Jimmy McClure back to St. Joe to meet Dixon in another "Rec hall first."

The annual Intramural banquet sponsored by the Athletic department under Fr. Baird has been scheduled for this evening in the cafeteria. As is customary, invitations have been sent to the tournament champion teams of each sport, plus other champs, referees, umpires, and other officials.

Among the highlights of the banquet will be the presentation of trophies, including the All-Sports trophy, which will be awarded to the residence hall which has been most successful during the school year in intramural participation and in the number of championships.

Thanks to the sixteen or seventeen regular readers who have faithfully followed intramurals through this column for the past two years. And remember, no man is poor as long as he is not an Orange Pygmy that resembles a Hawk.

End year with 8 straight wins

An aroused Puma baseball team stretched its winning streak to eight games last week as it ended the season with doubleheader wins over Franklin and Ball State.

The Pumas wound up the season with a 10-6 record, including a 4-4 record in the ICC.

Wednesday, the Pumas scored 14 runs on 20 hits in their double win at Franklin. Then on Saturday, the team provided the home crowd with a thrilling season-climax as they thwarted Ball State's bid for an ICC crown, and won, 3-2, and 4-2.

Tony Pacenti and Jim Crowley were the winning pitchers at Franklin as the Pumas won by scores of 6-4 and 8-1. Art Voellinger turned in a fine relief job in the nightcap.

The big guns at Franklin were Al Hanley and Ernie Kolesiak with four hits each, and Denny Houlihan with three safeties.

Saturday, Voellinger went the full nine innings in the first game as the Pumas hung a 3-2 defeat on the Cardinals. Ron Budzielek, Crowley, Houlihan and Bob Decker had two hits each in this game.

In the second game the Pumas came from behind with a late rally to down Ball State again, 4-2. Jim Hunt was the winner, with Voellinger again doing the relief work. Al Whitlow and El Eschman each had two of the Pumas' eight hits.

Coach Jim Holstein's baseball team turned in some excellent games after a rocky start and numerous rain-cancelled games. They collected double wins over Marian, Evansville, Franklin and Ball State, and single wins over Marian and Navy Pier. Puma losses were victories for Cincinnati (2), DePauw (2), and Indiana State (2).

As a result of Saturday's action, Ball State must settle for a title tie with DePauw at 7-3. Trailing them are Valpo, Indiana State, St. Joe, Butler, and Evansville.

Al Whitlow slams out another Puma hit.

St. Joe forecast for '63: new student union

Construction is scheduled to begin this summer on St. Joseph's college's new Student Union building in the circle between Bennett and Noll halls.

Many have already made studies of important legislative questions for Senator Hartke.

"The Indiana Academic Advisory Council," Senator Hartke said, "is an attempt to organize and use the intellectual resources of Indiana for the benefit of the state and the nation. The IAAC is a means for them to become active and useful in this field."

At the meeting Saturday, the council discussed the domestic economy, the education system and the conduct of world affairs with each field's relation to the future of the American free society.

Dr. Kreyche, participated in the world affairs forum and the general discussions which followed.

talks by Mr. John Calef on electroplating, and by Mr. John Brown on the electron microscope.

Education grads have tea party

The 1961 graduates of the elementary education department were entertained recently by a tea and farewell party given by the underclass members of the department.

At the same time Sr. Mary Audrey was honored and thanked for her work in the elementary education department.

Fr. Earnest A. Lucas, chairman of the department, congratulated the graduates, and reminded them of their obligations in Catholic education. He also expressed the gratitude of the department to Sr. Audrey.

Sr. Audrey thanked the group and said she would be interested in the future of the graduates and the college.
